Our Northern Virginia Dental Clinic (NVDC) was founded in 1994 and continues to set the standard for providing dental care to the underserved and uninsured residents of northern Virginia and is one of the largest privately-run indigent dental clinics in the country. Over the years, the NVDC has been visited on countless occasions by others who wish to replicate our model. It has been said that “the NVDC is not just a clinic, but a remarkable group of volunteers who believe in their commitment to a population that often struggles for that most needed dental care.” Are you a part of our remarkable group of volunteers? Please consider offering a few hours of your time and talent to provide oral health care to those less fortunate. The Northern Virginia Dental Clinic is the Northern Virginia Dental Society’s primary community outreach program – please help us keep it that way.

Thank you!

Libby J. Ross, Executive Director
Northern Virginia Dental Society
